

ORGANIZATION GOAL

Kids Mobility Network, Inc. (“the Organization”) provides a resource for families of children with disabilities to attain Durable Medical Equipment (“DME”). The organization serves as an alternative to traditional insurance for under-insured or uninsured families to acquire DME that provides children with disabilities with greater safety, mobility, and independence.

HISTORY

Christina and Peter Kopp are the founders of Kids Mobility Network, Inc. and the parents of Kayla, a 12-year-old girl with various disabilities. The Kopps, understand the DME situation well. Kayla’s physical needs require a number of DME devices to optimize her safety, mobility, and most importantly her independence. The use of appropriate DME is critical to children’s social interaction with peers and helps to establish self-esteem and self-confidence. As all children do, Kayla has outgrown walkers, wheelchairs and other equipment that was perfectly adequate to meet her needs – just too small for her. The Kopps, like many families, purchased additional DME at great expense to accommodate Kayla’s needs.

The Kopps saw a need in the community for a resource that would match surplus equipment with children that could benefit from this DME. “We looked for a non-profit organization that was doing this so that we could volunteer our time towards making a difference. When one didn’t exist, we felt like we needed to build one ourselves,” stated Christy Kopp, Executive Director of Kids Mobility Network. As entrepreneurs, the Kopps know what it takes to build an organization so that’s exactly what they have done.

Today, Kids Mobility Network provides DME for children with disabilities. Management is not aware of any other organization in the US that provides DME in same fashion as Kids Mobility Network. The Organization accepts monetary and DME donations to provide value to the communities it serves. Kids Mobility Network does not require families to purchase DME at its market value, but instead provides DME for a minimal donation to appropriate recipients. The Organization matches applicants with its current inventory of over $500,000 worth of equipment to provide greater safety, mobility, and independence for recipients.

The Organization’s benefit to the community is less about the equipment and more about the benefit that the children receive by using the equipment. While this very expensive equipment is visible and tangible, the functionality that the equipment provides is immeasurable.

OPERATIONAL PERFORMANCE

Kids Mobility Network provided its first piece of DME to a child in March of 2006. Since that time, the Organization has provided hundreds of pieces of DME to children across Colorado and beyond. This equipment provided by Kids Mobility Network has exceeded $1,000,000 in community benefit.

“Kids Mobility Network has provided nearly $6 of community benefit for every dollar raised through grants and donations. We’re very proud of this efficiency.”
